

And in the spirit of getting caught up, the 'new' CyberNexus is live!

If you've been here before, good, welcome back! For those who saw CyberNexus in the old form, stuck in the 90s, well, finally I updated and got something more interesting - I hope.

If some files are missing, email me and I will repost them where they need to be.

And yes, please register if you wish. For the beginning, you can count on being accepted pretty much without question. Be warned, though, that bad behavior here will not be punished. The perpetrator will, however, be limited more and more. Let's be civil, ok?

Come on in!
